

Join Peter Janu, MD, FACS, for a Live TIF® Talk
Dr. Janu to Discuss GERD & TIF Treatment on December 1

An estimated one in five adults in the United States experiences GERD – a chronic reflux condition that can include troublesome symptoms like heartburn, regurgitation of food/liquid and difficulty swallowing. It occurs when the flap valve between the stomach and esophagus isn't working properly to keep contents consumed in the stomach.

Fortunately, the TIF procedure can be done to reconstruct this valve and address the reflux symptoms patients are suffering from. Regularly performing this procedure, Dr. Janu is renowned for his specialty work with TIF across Northeast Wisconsin. He has been invited to host an informational session with Q&A about this minimally invasive, incisionless procedure and share his expertise on the topic. Two of his patients will also share their experiences with the procedure. All are welcome to join!
